RE: DOCKET NO. T-01051B-11-0448

Dear Sir or Madam:

On December 28, 2011 Qwest Corporation d/b/a CenturyLink QC ("CenturyLink"), agreed to a 33-day extension of the time clock associated with its December 14, 2011 tariff filing to make changes to its Access Service Price Cap Tariff.

At the request of Staff, CenturyLink hereby agrees to a further 70 day extension of the time clock, which will run through the April 25, 2012 Open Meeting date.

This Access Service Tariff conforms to the national policy recently determined by the Federal Communications Commission regarding access charges applicable to VoIP calls. This tariff or very similar tariffs have become effective in nearly all of the other states in which CenturyLink operates. We are anxious to have this Access Service Tariff approved as soon as possible, and accordingly this waiver is limited. Should the Staff complete its review of this tariff prior to the expiration of this extension, QC requests consideration of the tariff at the earliest possible timeframe.

Sincerely,
